

GALVANINA OVERVIEW

Galvanina
is a pure and refreshing mineral water which flows
spontaneously from the Appenine Mountains in the heart of Italy.

The History

GALVANINA is one of the oldest mineral water springs in Italy

It was discovered by the ancient Romans in the 1st century B.C., as testified by innumerable archeological and historical objects that were unearthed in the area, and still well preserved in the museum of the company Galvanina.

GALVANINA KEY BENEFITS

The Nature

Galvanina Mineral Water flows cool and clean from the rocks after passing through an enormous natural filter composed of tightly-packed quartz sand protected by gigantic banks of clay dating back to the Pliocene epoch during 3 years before to be collected.

For untold centuries, this system of natural purification has guaranteed the sheer quality of Galvanina Mineral Water, to the benefit of the health and the well-being of its many customers throughout the world.
